

Next Issue
Wednesday
May 14

Beat
those Crusaders

Narrating the 61st Year of St. Joseph's College

Volume 15

Collegeville, Indiana, Wednesday, April 30, 1952

Number 14

Freshman Meets Sudden Death

Chicagoan Had Just Completed Three-Day Spiritual Retreat

Not five hours after he participated in the closing of the high school retreat Sunday morning by receiving Holy Communion and the Papal Blessing, Chester Tokarz was dead. A freshman, Chester was the only St. Joe man who accepted a general invitation to make the retreat along with the 50 visiting high school juniors and seniors.

Witness accounts say that the Chicagoan, while boating with another student in the gravel pit southwest of the main campus, fell from the boat and was not seen again. Rescue attempts were begun by students and members of the college staff.

State police and county and city officers were called to the scene and intensified the search. Airplanes circled the area, but their efforts were of no avail. It was not until about four hours later, at about 7:15, that the body was recovered. Attempts at resuscitation failed.

The victim was taken to the Jackson Funeral Home in Rensselaer where Jasper County Coroner Dr. L. E. Kresler said that death was accidental and due probably to drowning. The observation was made by some that the victim might have suffered a heart attack.

A 1951 graduate of St. Philip High School in Chicago, the deceased was active in intramural athletics here and held the campus singles title in table tennis.

Funeral services will be held in Chicago Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock (C.D.T.) in St. Francis Assisi Church. Burial will be in St. Adelbert Cemetery.

"Evening in Paris" Due Next Week; Dick Carlton Plays

By BUEL ADAMS

Dick Carlton and his orchestra will be on the bandstand May 10 as the Junior Class presents its annual Prom in the field house. The highlight of St. Joe's social calendar, the Prom will have a decidedly French tinge this year, with "An Evening in Paris" as the central theme.

This theme will be evident in many different phases of the evening's events, from the reception of the bid upon entering the renovated gym until the last echo of the final song dies away at midnight.

Perfume for Souvenir

The bids themselves should be almost enough to establish the mood. Decorated with reproductions of the Eiffel Tower, Parisian gendarmes, and little French autos, each program will also include a miniature bottle of "Evening in Paris" perfume as a souvenir.

Street Scene

On a much larger scale will the field house itself complete the scene. The main court will be the site of a typical Paris street, bordered by cabarets, sidewalk cafes, lamp posts, and other appurtenances associated with this kind of atmosphere. The street will lead up to the doorway of a somewhat larger cafe, the place of the evening's festivities, covering territory formerly occupied by (Turn to Page Four)

MUSIC-MAKER

Dick Carlton, who will play "America's Smartest Music" for all Junior Prom-goers May 10.

Friends Honor Brother Dave Today On Jubilee Anniversary of Profession

Approximately 150 priest-alumni and friends of the community's Brother Dave Schneider will congregate on the Collegeville campus today to celebrate the Feast of St. Joseph and the 50th anniversary of Brother Dave's profession in the Society of the Precious Blood.

Although the brother actually reached the 50-year marker Feb. 8, today was chosen as an apt time to pay him full service.

Bishop Pursley Officiates

Today's festivities will begin at 11:00 this morning with an academic procession and a Pontifical High Mass, the Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, auxiliary bishop of Fort Wayne, officiating.

Preaching the sermon will be the Very Rev. Seraphin W. Oberhauser, provincial of the community. All alumni in the priesthood, members of the Society, priests of the Lafayette diocese, and personal friends of the jubilarian have been invited.

Dinner and Reception

At 1:00 P. M. a dinner in commemoration of Brother Dave will be held, followed by a reception. During the dinner, the College Concert Chorus will present several numbers, including two—"You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Little David, Play on Your Harp"—in honor of the jubilarian.

The Rev. Joseph Lenk will be toastmaster of the banquet, and among the speakers will be the Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, president of the college.

THE CAUSE . . .

The ballots of such voters as Joe Benner and Sy Borys, seen above, brought about, April 7, the election . . .

Fifty Local Students Attend Campus Retreat

Fifty students from the diocese of Lafayette invaded the St. Joe campus this past Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to hold their annual high school retreat.

The Rev. Charles McKoy, C.P.P.S., was the speaker at the seven conferences, with Father Richard Baird directing the retreat. Among the highlights of the three-day event were spiritual reading, question box periods, and daily devotions. The retreat closed Sunday afternoon with a softball game against the Xavier students.

CP's to Offer "Othello" In Theatre May 3 and 4

Director, Mrs. O'Brien in Leads Of Tragic Shakespearean Drama

By JIM PLATE

"Othello," the most ambitious undertaking of the Columbian Players since before the war, is virtually ready for presentation. The opening public performance will be at 8:00 P. M. Saturday, May 3, with another showing at 7:00 P. M. Sunday. Both presentations will take place in the College Theatre, and tickets will be on sale at the door both nights.

Great Tragedy

Shakespeare's story of "Othello" is one of the greatest tragedies ever written. It concerns the fate of a Moorish general who is led into doubt about the fidelity of his bride, Desdemona.

Villainous scheming is undertaken by Iago, Othello's advisor, who poses as the latter's friend, but who in reality is motivated by jealousy to contrive a plot whereby he succeeds in disrupting Othello's life, forcing him by indirect means to kill both his wife and later himself.

Director in Lead

The title role is portrayed by Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli, Columbian Players director and instructor in speech and dramatics. Cast as Desdemona opposite Mr. Cappuccilli is Mrs. Geri O'Brien, a highly seasoned thespian from Chicago.

Other major roles are carried by Joe Konkel (Iago), Pat Evard (Cassio), and Don Schlader (Roderigo). Portraying the other female roles are Eleanor Sheridan and Alberta Selig, both from St. Xavier College, Chicago. Miss Sheridan will portray Emilia, Desdemona's handmaid and Iago's wife, while Miss Selig will play the role of Bianca, Cassio's mistress.

Joseph Condie Works on Set
St. Joe men completing the cast are Buel Adams, Dick Finnegan, John Good, George Kuhn, Chuck Lenertz, Jim Murphy, John Patrick, Jim Plate, and Tom Suess.

The set, designed by the combined efforts of Mr. Joseph Condie—an alumnus—Mr. Cappuccilli, and Joe Konkel, is of a self-impressionistic style. The Columbian Players staff has been contributing toward its construction for the last six weeks under the direction of Mr. Condie.

Lighting, one of the most important factors in "Othello," is to be handled by Don Clark, who has been the CP's lighting director for a number of plays.

Music will be in the charge of Hugh McAvoy and John Good, while Bill Gillen and Jerry Gladu are providing for properties. Jim Plate, Dick Kotheimer, and Emerson Strace comprise the make-up department.

Parents' Day Program Organized; Exhibits and Shows Highlighted

By JOE BENNER

This Sunday, May 4, parents and friends of St. Joe students will gather on the campus for the fourth annual Parents' Day and Science Day. The program of the day will be officially opened at 10:30 A. M., with a High Mass in the chapel.

Miro Gets Presidency of NFCCS

By JOHN HENTSCHEL

St. Joseph's College once again holds positions of prominence in the Fort Wayne region of the NFCCS after a year in a probationary status. The re-instatement came after Miro Pregelj, St. Joe senior delegate, was elected to the presidency of the Fort Wayne region on the first ballot at the regional congress held this year at Marian College, Indianapolis.

Along with this honor, the regional Press Commission was again established at St. Joseph's, and the Science Commission, headed by Jack Udelhofen, received a rating of excellent, the only rating of its kind given in the region.

New Constitution Adopted

Along with Pregelj, next year's officers will be Carol Ruess of St. Mary-of-the-Woods, vice-president; Cynthia Prabst of Fort Wayne St. Francis, secretary; and Marshall Desmand of Notre Dame, treasurer.

A new constitution was adopted at the congress and will go into effect next fall under the new officers. The new document is designed to provide for a closer union and to better the organization of the present functions of the NFCCS.

Organized in 1937

The NFCCS was organized in 1937 at Manhattanville College, New York, when college students realized the need for unification of student forces. With due authorization the NFCCS developed throughout the country as a unit of the National Catholic Youth Council until it now embodies over 200 Catholic colleges and universities.

Its purpose is to assist both colleges and various student groups to give practical application (Turn to Page Four)

Full Program Offered

After dinner, from 11:30 to 1:00, visitors will be enabled to enjoy a full schedule of exhibits and programs. Among the former, those of the science departments, of publications, liturgy, athletics, and a special exhibit on the activities of the Society of the Precious Blood, will be featured.

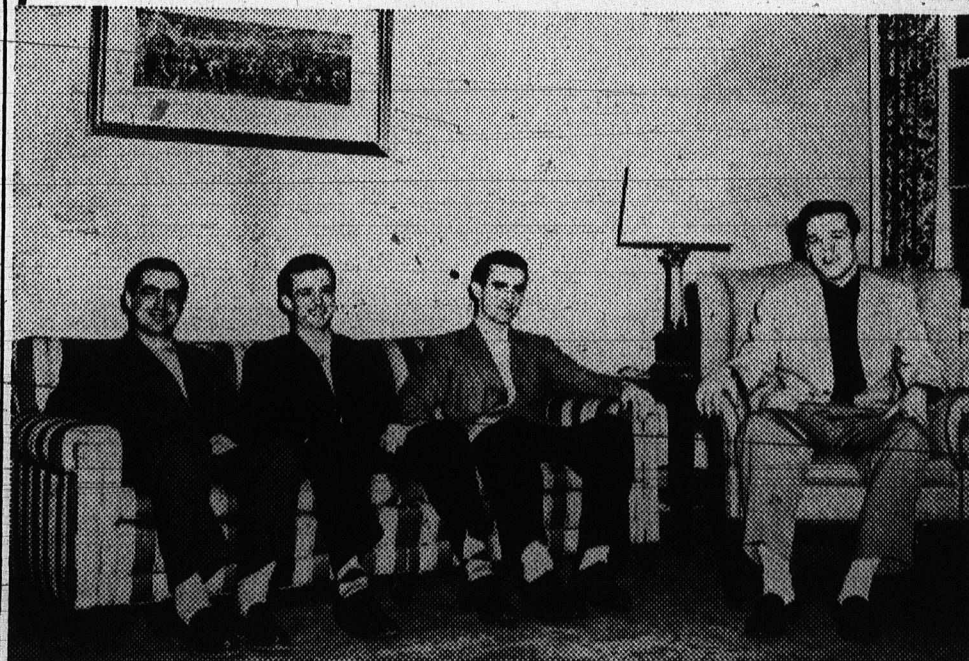

In the College Theatre, the movie, "Freshman Focus," will be shown at 1:00 and at 2:30. A concert by the Glee Club is slated for 2:00 and a band program at 3:15. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be held at 4:15 and will be followed by a Rosary procession to the grotto.

"Othello" in Evening

The activities of the day will be closed by the presentation of the Shakespearean tragedy, "Othello," at 7:00 in the College Theatre, by the Columbian Players.

The play is scheduled for the early hour to accommodate those parents who will be driving home after the performance.

. . . THE EFFECT

. . . of the four Student Council officers for the next school year. Hugh McAvoy, president; Pat Evard, vice-president; Maurice Garvey, secretary; and George Riggs, treasurer, all showing a big toothy grin for the cameraman.

News item: Doctors the country over have been investigating a strange malady which has overcome many college students during the past month.

Having A Wonderful Time

"Time and tide wait for no man," the epigrammatists say, but, since we are in no immediate danger of being inundated, perhaps it may be just as well to forget the "tide" part of the deal and concentrate on that other elusive element, "time."

Time is one thing over which man has no dominion; he can't slow it down and he can't speed it up. And, despite all the pleas for shorter hours, we feel quite confident that they will remain 60 minutes each—no more, no less.

There have undoubtedly been times in the lives of all of us when we have watched and wondered how a particular student can do so many things and keep up in his work so well, while we ourselves have a hard job even getting assignments in on time, much less term papers or themes. Both of us have the same amount of minutes and seconds to work with. Why can he accomplish what we cannot?

We have a pretty good suspicion that the answer lies, not in the time spent, but in the utilization and arrangement of the time. A student can write an assignment while listening to the radio for four hours, let us say, while another does the assignment without the disturbance of the radio in two hours, then listens for two; we feel safe in saying the latter's work will be better and, more than that, he will get more enjoyment out of listening unencumbered by the thought of the dread assignment he must do.

A good schedule is an invaluable aid in planning time correctly. If one can set down a definite time to accomplish an objective, such as writing a term paper or seeing a baseball game or attending a meeting, and keep this time reserved for this objective and none else, he will soon find he can "budget" his time very well and will be able to do things he never thought possible.

Of course, even the best schedule of time will prove of little avail if it is not adhered to. If one wishes to accomplish great things he must have a steadfastness of purpose and the will power to face a challenge when he meets it. He must stick to his guns and complete the job, no matter how distasteful it may seem at first. It is often remarkable, too, how easy a task becomes once it is started and the initial plunge is taken.

Maybe the present period offers the best opportunity to take advantage of time. Those term papers that are due at the end of May will not be such a big burden then if they are begun or, much better, finished, now. A worry will be lifted from your mind and you can attack other problems without this dark cloud in the future.

Then, too, that long-postponed letter or that book for English you put off reading can be taken care of in a hurry if only there is sufficient time allotted them for their execution.

You may not be able to control time, but you certainly can tame it to your best purpose.—B. T. A.

Puma Plan for Perplexing Prefects Pales

Nestled in the foothills of the Great Plains, there once lived some 400 college students, surrounded by some ten buildings. These ten buildings were in turn surrounded by Air. This mixture was termed a community and the people, inhabitants. Such is the origin of our modern word, "bicycle."

One of the ten buildings had acquired the name of "rec" hall. While the etymology of this word is somewhat dubious, it evidently refers to the shape the building was in. Many claimed it was a rather complete rec hall. Others also said it was a complete rec.

Thither our story takes us today. Our curtains part and we see our hero, Joe Puma, whetting his teeth on the side of a coffee cup, while apparently drinking the hot brew. Actually, he was singeing off a day's growth of beard the easy way. As the steam slowly arose, leaving red, raw patches on his cheeks, he glanced morosely at the door, while his erstwhile buddy, Tom Soupspoon, came bouncing gaily through its portals.

Walking somewhat in the manner of a frustrated gazelle, this worthy approached Joe and queried thusly:

"All set for the Prom, Joe?"

A look of anguish permeated Joe's countenance as he turned away, murmuring, "I'm not going."

"Not going!" Tom Soupspoon could barely stagger to the best chair in the place. "Why? Hasn't your gal, Gossamer Windstorm, said she'd go?"

"She was supposed to call me last night and tell me whether she would or not." Here Joe paused, then added in sepulchral tones, "She didn't call . . ."

Two heads bowed for a few moments of silence, then the long distance phone in the booth jangled itself off the hook. Joe could hear one of the rec hall proprietors answer and then heard the shout: "Hey, Joe, it's for you. Long distance from Pig Wallow, Ind." Pig Wallow was the hometown of Gossamer Windstorm.

Joe crashed to his feet and raced his shadow for the booth. The door was discreetly closed, but Tom Soupspoon could see a pink cloud beginning to form under Joe's feet and so knew all was well.

* * *

Such it was, for, as Joe pointed out later, Gossamer had explained that lines were unusually busy last night, so she had waited until the morning to call.

"Well, Dave," Joe was remarking later that day, "I'm all set for the Prom except for one thing."

"What's that?" his roommate grunted back, reaching for another piece of candy from Joe's latest box from home.

"Money."

"Money? Bah, a mere bagatelle, a small thing. Who needs money nowadays?" Dave laughed, choking slightly on the candy. "Besides me."

"Well, I do, for one. How'm I gonna get $50 overnight?"

"Fifty dollars!" Dave choked again.

"Yeh, fifty dollars," Joe replied, catching his roommate as Dave was about to sink to the floor, unconscious.

* * *

By letters to home, working in the cafeteria, letters to home, mowing lawns, letters to home, laboring in town, and letters to home, Joe finally accumulated the desired sum, and we now see him the evening of the Prom, completing last-minute operations on a stubborn cowlick, which eventually had to be subjected to tonsorial art.

"How do I look, Dave?"

Dave was trying to sniff the artificial boutonniere, but took time to glance up and gave a whistle of approval.

"Too bad you're not going, old chap." Joe smiled benignly on his

(Turn to Page Four)

DE MAGNOLIAS AM A-BLOOMIN' and the campus lagoon is undergoing its annual spring cleaning. It's dry as Skokie at this writing but we're looking forward to the day when the fountain starts spouting off once again . . .

UNTIL A FEW DAYS AGO I thought Clayton Klein had the loudest pair of trousers in Indiana. But then one of the lads here on retreat showed up—take it any way you wish—showed up with a lovely two-tone job, one leg red, the other blue! Step down, Clayton.

FORTUNE STILL DOTH SMILE in this world of woe! Recently a young man by the name of Bernard Walker learned that he would have to take his wife to a warmer climate for her health—and that costs money. So Bernard, who will graduate from Georgetown's dental school in June, decided to try his luck on the well-known TV show, Strike It Rich. Result? $500: an excellent foundation for the expense account. . . Oh, by the way, Bernard's brother, Gene Walker, just happened to be watching the program on the rec hall set.

THE BIG BONE, at last report, was still missing. The large nearly-petrified remnant of some prehistoric age, was unearthed on the Gehring farm near North Judson, Ind., and was presented to the college science department. It was displayed for a few days, then Joe Krushansky laid it down somewhere and it hasn't been seen since. Please, oh please, if anyone took the big bone, bring it back, won't you?

LOOKS LIKE A BUSY SUMMER at Collegeville. Besides the regular summer session there will be an abundance of other activities. Seven retreats have been scheduled, and, along with conventions and other affairs, there will be plenty of football. St. Leo, St. Mel, and Holy Trinity High Schools, all from Chicago, will hold opening drills on the campus. Also, of course, the Chicago Bears will begin their annual muscle-bending here, from July 28 to Sept. 13.

UNOFFICIAL LATIN VERB for expectorate: Spitto, spittere, jactui, splat.

DUST IN THE CORNER: Bill Bassett, dented somewhat right between the eyes by one of Marty Knapp's low-flying golf balls . . . Ed Joyce tenderly smitten once again by the well-known love bug (You should see the letters!) . . . Ed Kafka, a recent constant on the Morris B. Sachs Amateur Hour . . . "Slowpoke" Don Merki ruffling the Chicago U. pitchers by stealing second base, stealing home, and beating out an infield hit! . . . Norbie Hummel coaching the St. Augustine grade school team . . . Warren Malvick winning well-deserved applause at the Glee Club Spring Concert by overcoming all obstacles to take his flash pictures . . . Tom Rogers, married last Saturday in Chicago . . . Lou White serving as Mr. Interlocutor for the Rensselaer Lions Club while members of his band provided a little music on the side . . . Joe Walinchus adding excitement to the campus scene with his big motorcycle. . . Wally Obrochta unwillingly donating most of his income tax refund to the family coffer as partial payment for a not-forgotten wreck with the family car . . . Pat Evard personally chauffeured to a dance in Chicago by a young lady from Indianapolis. A Glee Club concert was included in their plans, but other activities intervened . . . Also missing from said concert, six stalwart voices scheduled to make the sojourn in Father Smolar's car. Smoky was to be the driver, but he couldn't locate the keys. (Always technicalities!) . . . Among the gentlemen who were thus stranded on the campus was John Griffin, for whom $30 worth of paying relatives awaited in vain at the Chicago affair . . . Jim Sloan, John Good, Bill Walker, and John Cermak spending the last three days of Lent at Our Lady of Gethsemani, Trappist monastery near Bardstown, Kentucky. They are the second group from St. Joseph's this year. Also, they were part of the largest attendance in the history of the abbey (170 guests). And, furthermore, Sloan and Cermak were the first two persons to stay in the beautiful new guest-house, which is still uncompleted.

FINALLY, LEST WE FORGET, today's the day for Brother David. Today, the feast of the Solemnity of St. Joseph, Brother celebrates his golden jubilee of religious profession. Just think, for fifty years he has worked on some of the biggest heads at Collegeville!

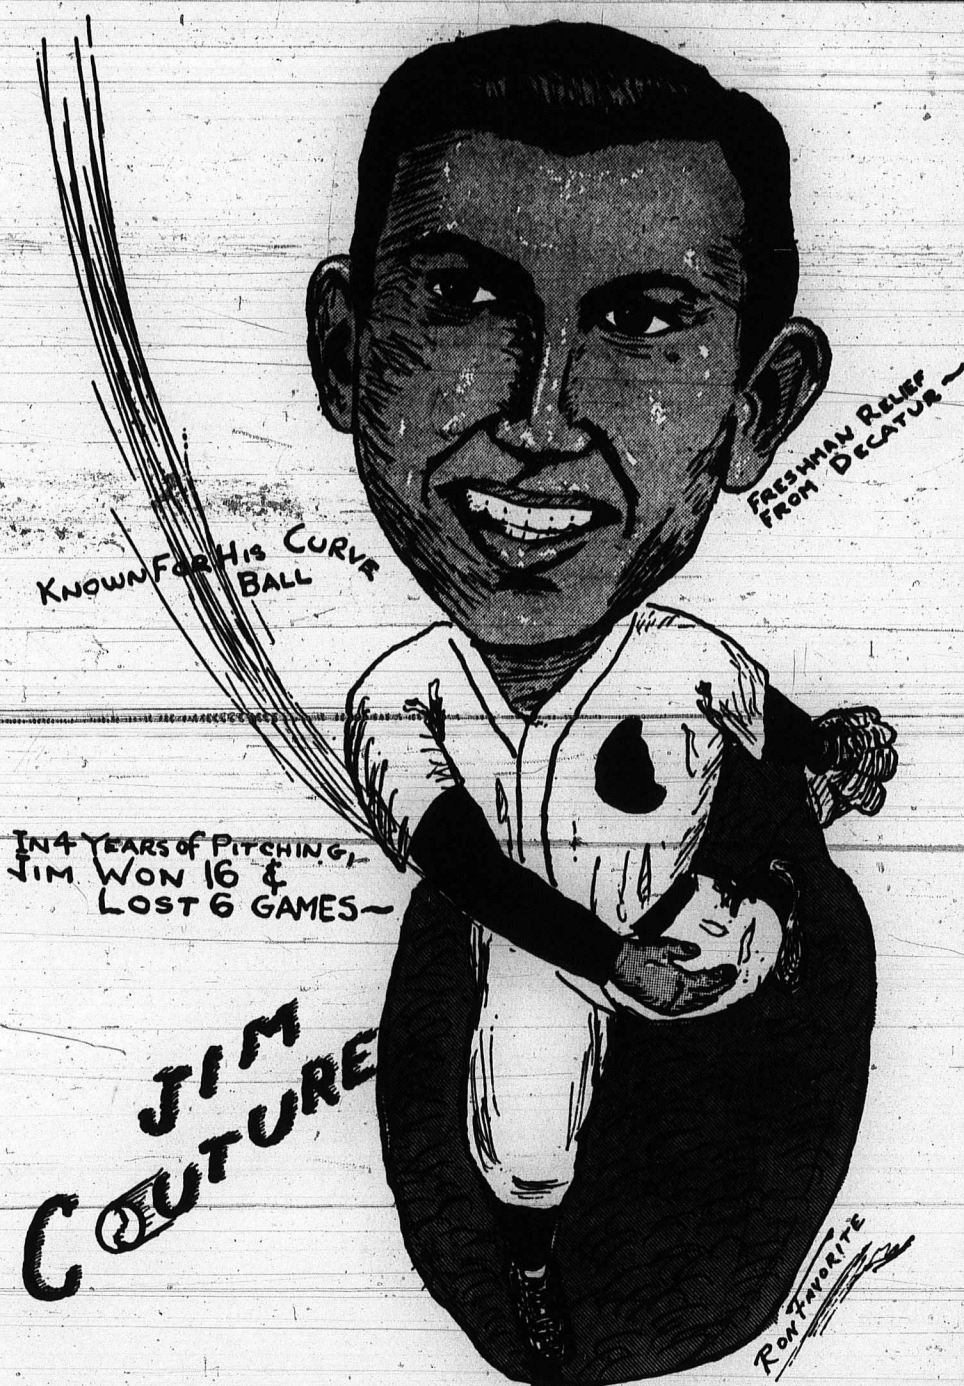

STUFF

Published bi-weekly during the school year, except during the calendar holidays of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and mid-year examinations by students of St. Joseph's College. Entered as second class matter Sept. 20, 1937, at the Post Office in Collegeville, Ind., under Act of March 3, 1879. Subscription $1.00.

STAFF

Editor	Buel Adams
Sports Editor	John Wolfe
Business Managers	Bill Nye, Joe Perisich
Art Editors	Ron Favorite, Jim Greene
Feature Writers	Ed Byrne, Jim Plate
Reporters	Bob Lahey, Ray Sarlitto,
	Gerald Mikosz, Bob Paton, Joe Benner, John Hentshel, Bill
	Feely, John Good, Dick Finnegan, Alex Lazur, Jerry Bednarkiewicz, Jim Baltes, Don Nowicki, Murray Sims.
Faculty Advisor	Mr. Thomas Scheiber

Rattay's 3-Hitter Pales Maroons, 9-1

The Grapevine

By JOHN WOLFE

THE ST. JOE baseball nine really gave their rooters something to cheer about in their first start of the season, April 21. There were a number of outstanding defensive plays turned in against the Maroons, but the play that brought the crowd to its feet was the diving catch made by center fielder Boyd Reutebuch. With two men on base in the fourth inning and no score in the game, a double might have scored two runs and broken the back of the Puma fighting spirit. It looked like curtains when a Chicagoan smacked a long drive to center, until "Butch" made his catch. A miss could have meant disaster in the opening game.

ANOTHER THING that marked the opener was the way the Pumas took advantage of a weak throwing arm displayed by the Chicago U. catcher and stole second base constantly. The day would have been complete if Reid Mackin could have stolen home successfully. One thing for sure, the Pumas are going to be a running team this year.

THE ALMOST complete absence of errors must have been a pleasant sight to Coach Jim Beane. Only a bobble of an easy pop fly by pitcher Wally Rattay marred an otherwise perfect day afield for the Pumas. A snappy double play in the fifth from pitcher to second to first pulled Wally out of a tight spot.

A humorous anecdote was added when in the sixth inning Mackin threw out the Maroon second baseman on a peg from right field to first base.

OPPOSING PITCHERS won't be throwing Ralph Meyer any more slow curves this year. He banded one a "country mile" in the fourth inning to left center and then in the seventh inning dusted off the Science Building with another triple. All in all it was a team victory for the Pumas who looked like a real ball club who meant business. Even Maynard Gamber, coach at first base, had to be restrained during the game by umpire John Cover for not staying in the coaching box. That is the kind of spirit that is going to win ball games for St. Joe this year.

AT THE ANNUAL sports banquet held April 23, letters and numerals were handed out to men who participated in football and basketball in varsity sports, and trophies and medals were given to those who were on championship teams in the intramural program. The following were awarded letters for the 1951-1952 basketball season: James Drake, Edward Schultheis, Mike Kacmar, Jack Dwyer, Boyd Reutebuch, William Elbert, Bernard Boff, Ralph Meyer, Dick Soich, Willard Kellogg, Donald Merki and Chester Pilat. Freshman numerals were awarded to Gerald Walke, Peter Fenlon, Gerald MacCarthy, James Zid, Paul Saner, Steve Oleskiewicz, James Gordon, James Cavaretta, James Greene, William Gehring, and August Pasquini.

THE INTRAMURAL awards were presented to the captains of their teams and the following presentations were made: Bob Beaupre, who captained the Indians to the football title; Paul Steigmeyer, of the Basketeers, for basketball; Bill Ferguson, who captained the champion volleyball and shuffleboard teams; and to Ron Hospodka of the Spares for his champion bowlers. Also presented with awards were Chet Tokarz for the singles ping pong championship and Reid Mackin and James Drake for the doubles title.

CONGRATULATIONS to Father Marcellus Dreiling for his hole in one on Curtis Creek's number three hole recently. The same Father Dreiling shot an ace on number seven about nine years ago. Father Len Kostka was a witness.

Pumas Face Seven Tilts In 11 Days

By JOHN WOLFE

Coach Jim Beane's Puma pitching staff will be put to a supreme test in the following days when they face a schedule of seven games in eleven days.

Starting with Valparaiso here today, the Pumas travel to Indiana State for an engagement on May 2, to Valpo for a return game on the 5th, back home for an encounter with Ball State on the 7th, a game with Indiana State on the 9th and then a doubleheader against Butler's Bulldogs on Prom Day, May 10.

Both Valpo and Ball State beat the Pumas twice last year while Joe Pindell pitched a three-hit game against Indiana State last season only to lose, 3-2. Needless to say, the Pumas are out to see what they can do about evening things with Valparaiso's Crusaders who administered them two decisive losses last year.

If the St. Joe hurling staff can come through those eleven days it certainly will go down as the trick of the St. Joseph's College athletic season of 1951-'52.

Pumas Get A for Effort In 3-Way Track Meet

The St. Joe track team journeyed to Indianapolis last Saturday to compete in a triangular meet with Butler and Valparaiso and found the going rather rough. Butler wound up with 111½, Valparaiso had 50½ and the Pumas failed to score a point.

This quote from Sunday's Indianapolis Star about sums it up: "St. Joseph's, the third member of the meet, got considerable exercise but not a single point. The Pumas can claim A for effort, however. They started track for the first time last season with only five men, this season are back at it again with 14."

Butler completely dominated the meet taking 13 of 15 first place honors.

Meyer Smashes Two Triples To Lead 12-Hit Puma Attack

The St. Joe Pumas started off the 1952 season in grand style by slugging their way to a 9 to 1 victory over a hapless Chicago Maroon team on April 21.

It was the debut of two Pumas new to the baseball diamond here at St. Joe. The first was Coach Jim Beane and the second was a freshman, Wally Rattay, a pitcher the Maroons will not care to face again this or any year. Rattay's brilliant three-hit pitching and the hard hitting of first baseman Ralph Meyer featured the game.

Six Chicago Errors

St. Joe combined nine hits, two walks, seven stolen bases, and six Chicago errors to produce their nine runs. Meanwhile Rattay set the Maroons down in order in the second, third, fifth, sixth, and seventh innings. He walked four and struck out six.

The game started out on even terms as neither team could garner a hit in the first three innings. But the Pumas scored a pair in the fourth frame on a hit by Soich, who was on base four of his five trips to the plate, and a walk to Don Merki. Merki later stole second, advanced to third on an out and then stole home.

Meyer Triples

St. Joe picked up three more runs in the fifth after two were out. "Smoky" Smolar singled and Soich reached first on an error. Then Ralph Meyer tagged one of pitcher Garcia's slow curves and parked it in the trees in deep left center for a triple. Meyer scored seconds later on an error by the shortstop.

The Pumas added one in the sixth on left fielder Bob Wasni's double and pitcher Rattay's first of two singles. Three more came in the seventh on an error, Meyer's second triple, and singles by Merki and right fielder Reid Mackin.

Losses Shutout

Meanwhile Rattay was sailing along fine until he lost his shutout in the ninth inning. The Maroon pitcher, Garcia, singled to center with one out and advanced to second on a balk. Wally got the next batter to ground to short for the second out, but Britton, the right fielder, punched a single through the infield to score Garcia for Chicago's third and last hit.

Darkness Stops Wabash Tilt at 8-8

Coach Jim Beane's Puma nine played a game for experience Monday when darkness halted a 10-inning contest with Wabash at 8-8 in which St. Joe again showed classy fielding and hitting ability but lacked the pitching which was so evident in their only other game of the year.

The tie will not be played off.

Meyer Keeps up Hitting Pace

Puma bats boomed right at the outset when Ralph Meyer's triple, his third of the new season, preceded Ray Pfriem's homer across the road in deep left center scoring two runs.

Two St. Joe double plays in the opening innings nullified a pair of walks, but there was no such luck in the third when Wabash combined five hits and two walks for four scores.

George Smolar's hit in the fourth drove in Bob Wasni, but the Cavemen retaliated with a pair in the fifth for a 6-3 lead. The Pumas' two pairs of runs in the fifth and seventh frames gave them a 7-6 advantage which looked big as Ted Ashburner retired Wabash in order in the eighth.

Wasni Starts Double Play

Incidentally, Ashburner was saved in the seventh when Bob Wasni's heave from left field nabbed center field Klefeker at the plate, and shortstop McCoy was run down between second and third for the twin killing.

In the ninth Wabash's two singles, a wild pitch and the Pumas' only error gave them two runs. St. Joe tied in their half of the ninth on hits by Smolar and Dick Soich and a Wabash error.

Jim Couture put Wabash out in the 10th, and all the Pumas could provide in the lengthening shadows was a single and stolen base by Bill Schulte.

St. Joe Golfers Lose Two Matches

The golf team opened its 1952 season with a triangular match against Valparaiso and Indiana State at the Curtis Creek Country Club, Rensselaer, on April 21. Valpo won the meet amassing 19 points, State was second with 11½ and the Pumas last with 5½. The best round was shot by the Crusaders' Holmes with 37-38 for a 75. The Puma scores were Don Schubert, 44-39—83, Bob Clark, 41-44—85, Tom Powell, 43-45—88, and Tom Paonessa, 45-42—87.

On April 24 at Silver Lake Country Club in Chicago, Chicago U. defeated the Pumas 9½-5½. Bob Clark of St. Joe's had the best round in the 5-man match play with a 43-36 total of 79. Other Puma scores were Schubert 84, Powell 84, Paonessa 87, and Charley George 100.

THIS WAY, PLEASE, MR. BEANE!

Don Merki (left foreground) waits to replace George Smolar at bat in a recent practice session, while Coach Jim Beane (facing the other way) sees to it that all non-pitching pitchers are running.

MURRAY'S

Van Heusen Shirts
Clipper Craft Suits
Massagic Shoes
Ball Band Rubbers

R. P. CARTON

Dodge
Plymouth
Wrecker Service
Phone 15

RENSSELAER

KANNE'S CAFE
and RECREATION

Rensselaer

Lafayette

ARROW

CLEANERS

Philosophers Elect Father Kaiser

The Rev. Edwin G. Kaiser, chairman of the Department of Religion and Philosophy, was elected to the Executive Council of the American Catholic Philosophical Association for a three-year term, it was announced at the 26th meeting of the group in Cleveland, April 15 and 16.

The Rev. Edward A. Maziarz, assistant professor of philosophy, presented a paper on "Comparative Science and Deductive Methodology" and led comment at a panel session on that topic.

Also attending the meeting from St. Joseph's was the Rev. Robert Lechner, instructor in philosophy.

Elected with Father Kaiser to the Council was the Rev. Leo S. Schumacher, St. Mary's Seminary, Cleveland.

Fathers Kaiser, Lechner, Kern, and Smolar also attended a meeting of the Indiana Philosophical Association at Indiana University, Bloomington, Saturday, April 19.

Joe Puma

(Continued from Page Two) roomie, who merely shrugged his shoulders.

"Oh, I guess I'll manage," Dave replied eyeing Joe's box of candy, Joe's stack of new records, and Joe's pack of Old Molds, the new cigarette—the kind without tobacco. "At least I'll get a good night's sleep."

"Gosh, I wish I didn't have to be in by three. I guess there's no chance Prof. Rollerskates won't check up on us tonight."

"Are you kiddin'?" Dave's very tone scorned even the possibility of such an occurrence. "Why, he'll set his alarm for 2:45 sure and begin checking exactly at three. You know him."

"Wait a minute!" Joe suddenly snapped his fingers. "I've got an idea." And down the hall he ran, hippety-hop.

After ten minutes he returned with a blissful smile on his face. "It's all fixed, Dave. I can stay out as late as I want and old Rollerskates won't catch me."

"What's the brainstorm now?"

"Well, Tom Soupspoon's going to the Prom, too, but he'll be back by three, cause he doesn't want to take any chances. Now, his room's way down the hall, and Prof. Rollerskates'll check up on him long before he gets to us. So, Tom's going to go to his room, get ready for bed and will be in bed by the time Rollerskates checks. Then, when Rollerskates goes away, he'll jump out his window, run around to ours, climb in the room, and get into my bed. Then, when Rollerskates sees the figure there, he'll think it's me. When he goes away, Tom'll go out our window to his room, climb in through his open window, and be back in bed. Clever, huh?"

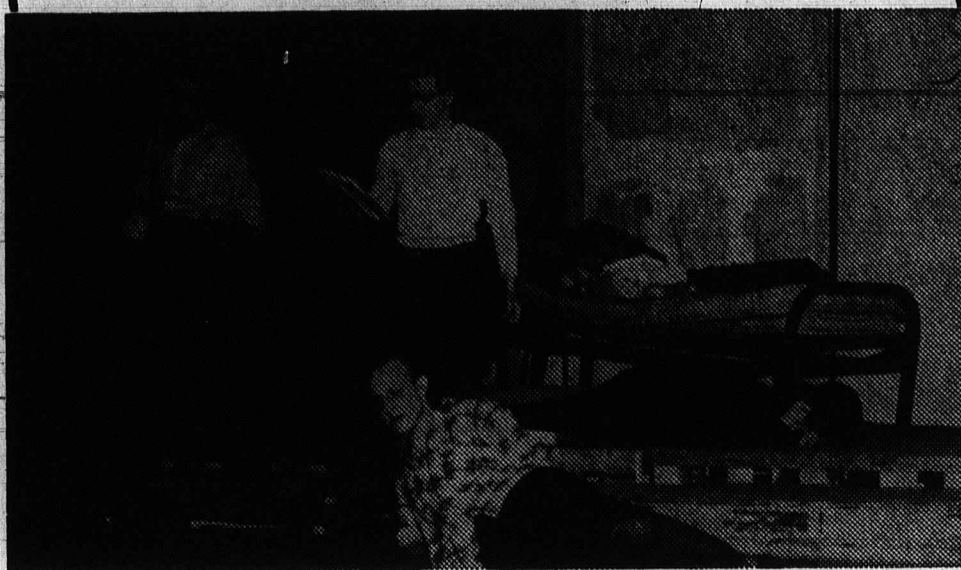

"That's almost too clever," Dave remarked. "Something's bound to go wrong."

"No, it won't. Just leave our window open a little so Tom can get a hold on it to shove it up far enough for him to climb in. I'll tell him to close it when he leaves."

"Well, OK, we'll try it."

Joe had a most wonderful time at the Prom. Gossamer only stepped on his feet seven or eight times, but Joe grinned and beamed it. He entered his room at six the next morning, slept blissfully and congratulated himself that all went

GORE GALORE

Getting his just desserts as all villains do, Joe Konkell, Iago in the Columbian Players' production of "Othello" this week-end, is being lectured by John (Lodovico) Pastrick. Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli (Othello) and a few corpses (on bed—Mrs. Geri O'Brien as Desdemona; on stage—Eleanor Sheridan as Emilia) also are present.

Social Events Increase after Lenten Lull

After the Lenten dance respite, activity increased on the social front during the past two weeks, as St. Joe men attended three dances during this period.

Foremost was a mixer last Friday in the rec hall, in which Collegevilleites hosted some 30 girls from St. Francis College, Fort Wayne. The affair began at 8:00 and lasted approximately four hours.

Two other dances away from home also beckoned. Friday, April 18, approximately 30 men attended a movie and mixer at Mundelein College, while a few more are scheduled to visit St. Mary-of-the-Woods' campus at Terre Haute this week end for the annual Spring Ball at that school.

well. All this joy was rudely dispersed when he awoke and found a note on his desk from Prof. Rollerskates, telling him to go see the Dean of Men for coming in after three that morning. What had gone wrong?

He caught Dave right as the latter was returning from a late breakfast and showed him the note.

"What happened?"

Dave glanced at Joe with an I-told-you-so look. "He caught Tom trying to get in the front door in his pajamas and found out everything."

"Why in the world did Tom try to come in the front door? Even if you forgot to leave the window open, he could've gone back into his room."

Dave slid with a sigh into an easy chair. "Tom had to make it through the front door. He had to take a chance even though he knew he might be caught, and he was."

"But why did he have to make it through the front door?"

"That was the only choice left. All went OK up to a point. Tom got in our room all right and closed the window when he left. But when he got to his own room, he was in trouble. You see, his roommate, Fearless Ralph Neophyte, had awakened while Tom was gone and felt the draft, so he went to the window and closed it . . . tight."

Saxelby Elected Chi Club Pres.

Tom Saxelby, junior, was chosen president of the Chicago Club for the next year at the last meeting of the club April 24.

Also elected at the same time were: Bill Gausselin, vice-president; Don Gorman, secretary; and Pat Ford, treasurer.

St. Joe Prom

(Continued from Page One)

the intramural courts.

Throughout this cafe, checkered cloths will cover tables illuminated by the light of a single bottle-held candle. Opposite the door will be the orchestra, with French waiters bustling through the room.

Rhythmic Offerings

The music itself, featuring the smooth and rhythmic offerings of Dick Carlton, will be played by an orchestra highly regarded throughout the country as an exponent of "America's Smartest Music."

Carlton has played before such notables as the King of Sweden and General MacArthur and has broadcast coast-to-coast over four networks. He has made numerous appearances in Chicago.

Program Begins Friday

As arranged, the program for the Prom week end will begin Friday night, May 9, with a hayride sponsored by the Student Council and an informal rec hall dance, backed by either the Council or the Chicago Club.

Saturday morning will feature the Indiana Collegiate Conference tennis meet on the St. Joe courts, with a baseball double-header with Butler that afternoon. The Prom formal will be in the evening from 9:00 to 12:00 and a get-together at the Curtis Creek Country Club will follow. A special late Mass has been arranged for Sunday morning.

Halleck Guest

Hosts for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scharf and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fetter. The guest of honor will be U. S. Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. Bids are $5.50.

Heading the entire Prom program is Ken Zawodny, with Tom O'Rourke on decorations; Roland Meinert, refreshments; Joe Pindell, band; Bob Carney, flowers; Tom Saxelby, publicity; Tom Van Acker, tuxedos; Jack Richert, accommodations; Bill Woody, bids; and Tom Schnieders, finances.

CARL and GENE'S Barber Shop

COLLEGE SIDE RESTAURANT
Sandwiches
Short Orders

Thirty Named To Dean's List

Four Have 3.00

According to the Dean's List published April 16, 30 St. Joe students are exempt from the requirements of the cut system for the remainder of the current semester—unless the instructor in a particular course rules otherwise. Of these 30, all of whom maintained scholastic indexes of 2.50 or over, exactly one third are freshmen.

The bulletin contains also the names of nine sophomores, five juniors, and six seniors.

Four Have 3.00

Four students received indexes of 3.00: Joseph A. Peters and Buel T. Adams, Mansfield, Ohio; Philip F. Gilbert, Chicago; and Daniel P. Deneau, Kankakee, Ill.

Edmund S. Ashburner, Pittsburgh; John R. Bassett, William W. Bassett, Jr., and Edmund F. Byrne, all of Peoria, Ill.; Francis M. Birkmeyer, Verona, N. J.; Andrew F. Davey, Frankfort, Ind.; Robert J. Eder, Rensselaer; William P. Feely and John T. Madell, Brookfield, Ill.

From Iowa to Trieste

Also, Robert M. Jones, Centerville, Iowa; Edward D. Kafka and Joseph D. Perisich, Joliet, Ill.; Philip J. Kauchak, Francis J. Molson, and George J. Smolar, Whiting; Robert L. King and George E. Riggs, Louisville; George R. Kuhn, Detroit.

Also, Eugene J. Mellady, East Chicago, Ind.; John A. Metzner, Delphos, Ohio; Ralph C. Meyer, Leipsic, Ohio; Vladimir N. Pregelj, Trieste, F.T.T.; Edward J. Riley, Oak Park, Ill.; Paul S. Steigmeyer, Fort Wayne; Gerald J. Walke, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and William J. Zimmer, Covington, Ky.

Spring Music Festival Held Here April 20

The annual Spring Music Festival of the glee clubs of St. Joseph's, St. Francis of Joliet, and the Calumet Center, in addition to the Seminarian choir, was held in the College Theatre Sunday, April 20, to the delight of a large audience of students and outsiders.

Also featured, in addition to the three clubs, were the St. Joe quartet, imitations of Al Jolson by Ron Favorite, and a soprano solo by Johanna Porazinski of St. Francis.

Among the best received of the St. Joe songs were "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "Macnamara's Band." The St. Francis group was well-applauded for such numbers as "Music When Soft Voices Die," "Early One Morning," and a medley of Romberg favorites.

At the end of the program the organizations joined in presenting "Oklahoma," for which a repeat performance was demanded, "Let My People Go," and the "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's Messiah.

The St. Joe glee club is to go to Joliet today to combine with the St. Francis chorus for the Spring Concert there.

Singers Go To Joliet

Returning the favor paid them April 20, when the Glee Club of the College of St. Francis, Joliet, joined them for the Spring Music Festival here, the St. Joe Glee Club visits the Joliet campus this evening for another joint concert.

The singers will present much the same program as was applauded in the College Theatre, with a few exceptions, including the addition of the Jacobs-Bond favorite, "Just A-Wearyin' For You."

Honor Brother Dave

Earlier, this afternoon, the group will honor Brother Dave on his golden jubilee with a short program in the cafeteria.

The Joliet show will be the last public appearance for the club this year. The chorus sang its way through four Indiana and Ohio cities this past week-end, and presented five programs on the trip.

Open in Ohio

Sunday afternoon found the men in Wapakoneta, Ohio; Sunday evening, in Celina, Ohio. Monday, a morning show in Fort Wayne and afternoon and evening shows in Decatur, Ind., closed the short tour. Numbers given at these performances were much the same as those presented at Kankakee, Ill., early this month. The quartet, ensemble, and Al Jolson imitator, Ron Favorite, were featured.

NFCCS

(Continued from Page One)

to the spreading of Catholic opinion by assisting in the development of Student Councils, by acting as a medium for the exchange of ideas, by providing suggestions in the field of Catholic Action, and by representing the Catholic student body in national and international life.

Twenty Regions in NFCCS

To aid the student in exchange of thought the NFCCS is geographically divided into 20 regions each of which holds an annual congress to formulate thought for the national congress.

This year, St. Joe was represented by Senior Delegate Miro Pregelj, Student Council President Hugh McAvoy, and former Press Commission Chairman Don Netols.

Maple Lanes

BOWLING

AND

Snack Bar

HOTEL

RENSSELAER

LONG'S

Walgreen Agency

Drug Store

HOTEL

HOOSIER INN

City's Finest
CLYDE BYERS,
Owner-Manager

Out the Corners—
Shop at Warner's

WARNER'S
ACE STORE

Hardware

RENSSELAER

JENSEN
DRUG
CO.

Phone 52

RENSSELAER